

Lead to Excellence :

"We are responsible for what we are, and whatever we wish ourselves to be, we have the power to make ourselves."

If what we are now has been the result of our own past actions, it certainly follows that whatever we wish to be in future can be produced by one present action: so we have know how to act."

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

I am pleased to extend warm greetings to all those gathered for the Global Young Leaders Conference (GYLC).

As future leaders, young people must develop the skills, knowledge and ideas that will help them make important decisions later in life. Education is central to their success. Through this conference GYLC provides adequate opportunities for students from different countries to learn from experts in the fields of politics, journalism, finance and international diplomacy. I commend participants for their willingness to pursue greater knowledge and for their dedication to becoming better leaders.

I also applaud the advisors and organizers for their commitment to students educational and leadership development. Best wishes for a memorable conference and continued success.

I congratulate and greet Vardhman International Public School for its quality education extra co-curricular activities.

INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

"The child is the father of man" Says William Wordsworth. "A tree grow out of a seeds. Similarly good citizens grow out of good students and we at Vardhman International make our students not only good citizens of our nation but also make them good human beings, so that wherever they go in the world, they spread the message of humanity and knowledge.

Childhood is the foundation of life. It can be expressed in these words "As the twig is bent so the tree will grow." A child is born with certain inborn capabilities which have to be brought out by providing the right environment at home and in the school. Home is one such important agency. Child's fundamental development takes place here, school is yet another. In co-operation with home, the school gradually introduces the child to a larger group and helps him to learn to meet its demands.

We take every child as an individual and give a healthy environment to make him/her grow to his /her extent. The middle school caters to the academic and extra curricular activities of students in the age group of 7 to 12 years. To meet these demands we have set a curriculum which will be helpful for all round development of the child.
